

SHELBY MILLER - FLUTE

Shelby Miller is a Sophomore Flute Performance Major from Ishpeming Michigan. She has been playing the flute since 2007 and studies under Dr. Angeleita Floyd at the University of Northern Iowa School of Music. At UNI she plays under Director Danny Galyen in the UNI Symphonic Band, Panther Marching Band, the Northern Iowa Flute Choir, directed by Dr. Floyd, and the Flute quartet MASK. At the College Hill Conservatory, Shelby serves as the Secretary as well as the Flute instructor. As an Instructor, Shelby hopes to further student's playing ability while helping them explore liturgical music that they then share with their churches to praise God through music.

Email: millesca@uni.edu

Phone: 847-363-8453

BEN MEDBOURN - CLARINET

Benjamin Medbourn is from Sioux City, Iowa. He is currently a clarinet major, studying music education at the University of Northern Iowa. He is taking lessons under the direction of Amanda McCandless, the clarinet professor at UNI. He has been playing clarinet for since 2009. Ben enjoys playing with the UNI Clarinet Choir, Panther Marching Band, and the Symphonic Band. He plans on taking his degree to deepen his students' connection to music.

Email: medbourb@uni.edu

Phone: 712-202-6048

GAGE SCHMITT - SAXOPHONE

Gage Schmitt is a music performance major from the University of Northern Iowa. Gage is currently studying saxophone under Dr. Ann Bradfield and Mr. Christopher Merz. Gage grew up in Urbandale, Iowa and went to school at Urbandale High School. Gage Schmitt has been playing saxophone since 5th grade, and studied with Randy Hoepker, Jillian Whitaker, Colin Young, Don Jaques, and Susie Miget. Gage has been involved with the MTNA 2013-2014 Senior Woodwind Solo competition, the 2015 regional North American Saxophone Alliance (NASA) conference, 2015-2016 MTNA Young Artist Woodwind Solo competition, and the 2016-2017 MTNA Young Artist Chamber Music competition. Gage has performed in the Panther Marching Band, Inglorious Jazzers, UNI Symphonic Band, and various saxophone ensembles. Gage currently plays in the GLAM Saxophone Quartet, the UNI Wind Symphony, and the Jazz Panthers. Gage's end goal is to be a saxophone professor at a university teaching a saxophone studio, and collaborating with musicians and composers to play old and new music for people to hear and enjoy.

Email: schmittg@uni.edu
Phone: 515-491-1383

ANYA SHOREY - BASSOON

Anya Shorey (bassoon) of Sioux City, IA is a first year music education major at the University of Northern Iowa. She has played bassoon since fall of 2010. At UNI, she enjoys playing in the Northern Iowa Symphony Orchestra as well as in a bassoon quartet. Anya strives to encourage her students to realize their fullest potential to make music and supports their continued learning. In the future, Anya plans on becoming a band director and continuing to be involved with church music.

Email: shoreya@uni.edu

Phone: 712-266-6831

DAVID THOM - TRUMPET

David Thom is a trumpet student and third year Music Education major with a jazz emphasis at UNI. He is from Marion, Iowa, and is a member of Dr. Randy Grabowski's trumpet studio at UNI. David has been playing trumpet since 2005, primarily studying with Steve King, and has several years of large ensemble experience both at UNI and throughout his years in the Linn-Mar school district. David also has many years of experience working with young children through his mother's at-home daycare business. Currently, David is the trumpet section leader of the UNI Symphonic Band, as well as a regular church musician at College Hill Lutheran Church.

Email: thomd@uni.edu

Phone: 319-432-9392

SAM OGILVIE – TENOR TROMBONE

Samuel Ogilvie is a third year Instrumental Music Education major from Iowa City, IA. He has been playing trombone since 2006 and currently studies under Dr. Anthony Williams at the University of Northern Iowa. As an educator, Samuel strives to foster an environment where his students can develop a passion for music, gain a greater understanding of the art, and pursue their craft to the extent to which they feel fulfilled. At the College Hill Conservatory, Samuel serves as the Director. In this vocation, he oversees the operation of the conservatory and ensures that the Conservatory operates as a warm, welcoming environment that allows students to develop their love for music.

Director Email: chconservatory@gmail.com

Personal Email: ogilvies@uni.edu

Phone: 507-440-0029

JOSH PIERING – BASS TROMBONE

Josh Piering is a second year music education major at the University of Northern Iowa. He is from Cedar Rapids Iowa, and currently plays Bass Trombone in Dr. Anthony Williams' Trombone Studio. He has been playing trombone since he was in 5th grade and has been playing the bass trombone since he was in 11th grade. In his time at UNI he has played with the Northern Iowa Symphony Orchestra, and currently he is in his second year as a Jazz Panther and his first year as a member of the Northern Iowa Wind Symphony.

Name: Josh Piering

Email: pieringj@uni.edu

JOSEPH MORRIS IV - EUPHONIUM

Joseph Morris is from Burlington, IA and currently a second year instrumental music education major at The University of Northern Iowa. He takes euphonium lessons with Dr. Jesse Orth at UNI and has played euphonium since 2007. At UNI he participates in The Panther Marching Band, Symphonic Band, and UNITUBA.

Email: morrijap@uni.edu

Phone: 319-750-5152

ALAN BEVING – TUBA AND PIANO

Alan Beving is a sophomore at the University of Northern Iowa majoring in instrumental music education. He is from Hartley, Iowa and started playing the piano when he was seven years old and the tuba when he was ten. At UNI, Alan studies piano under Dr. Dmitri Vorobiev and tuba under Dr. Jesse Orth. Alan is involved with multiple ensembles at UNI including, the UNI Symphonic Band and Panther Marching Band under the direction of Dr. Danny Galyen, and UNITUBA under the direction of Dr. Jesse Orth. At the College Hill Conservatory, Alan serves as the Curriculum Officer and the Piano and Tuba instructor. Alan hopes to help students discover their God-given musical talents and develop those talents that the students use them to praise the Lord.

Email: bevinga@uni.edu

Phone: 712-260-2873

JACOB SMITH

Jacob Smith (treasurer) is a first year Marketing and Business Administration double major at the University of Northern Iowa. He is originally from Johnston, IA. Jacob is also a trombone player, guitar player, and vocalist, and is a strong believer in the positive impact that music can have on people's' lives. As treasurer, Jacob is responsible for managing the finances of the conservatory and assisting in promotion efforts throughout the Cedar Valley.

Treasurer Email: chconservatory.treasurer@gmail.com